Farming and Family

Farming in Poland is a lot like farming in Texas most of the farms are family owned and operated most have had the land for generations and they all work the land as father son and sometimes grandpa is involved some but mostly father son and they work together as a team because they only have a small amount of land so they must make the best out of what they have. Its like all the farmers care and watch out for each other they all respect what everyone does and they will help each other out when the need arises, farmers are a tight knit group and they will do whatever it takes to make there farms as efficient and as profitable as they can.

As you can see here it takes a family to run a farm and it takes a father and son to be able to keep it running and the Dad runs the milking part where he milks the cows twice a day everyday.

And as you can see here it is Greg's job to take care of feeding the calves and taking care of feeding the cows and making sure that they are in good health so that they can produce the most milk possible.
